Class History

Grade One--It was the beginning of another fall and of course another school year. It was the first day of school in September of 1941. The children were all standing around puzzled and frightened but the teacher Mrs. Spitler soon had everything under control. Enrolled this first year were: Kenny Harshman, Paul Loudon, Bill McNaughton, Ralph Johnson, Joe Quimby, Robert Kennedy, Ray Best, Ruth Burke, Jessie Beale, Freddie Oaks, Bud Harrison, Leroy Sheldon Tommy Murray, Ethel Nedrow, Mary Jo Johnson, Donna Kennedy, Helen Oller, Dorothy Giovannone, and Glen Corry.

Grade Two--This year we were altogether different, not the same frightened children of last year. We were beginning to think we knew something about school, even though our teacher, Mrs, Hicks had a different idea. This year we had one entry, Yvonne Cheeks, while Jessie Beale, Ruth Burke, and Kenny Harshman left us.

Grade Three--We could just barely wait for school to start because we knew there were new readers, with interesting stories and plays waiting for us. Mrs. Hanny taught us to tell time and we felt we had gained much knowledge. Shirley Lytle, Janet Prust, and Grace Hall joined our happy class, and Ralph Johnson, Robert Kennedy, Donna Kennedy, and Helen Oller left the class.

Grade Four--Boy, but we were big kids now or at least thought so. We got report cards like the high school and were graded with letter grades instead of U's and S's. Mrs. Fenstermaker began to teach us the multiplication tables this year, and what a time she had. Janet Taylor, Sandy Smith, and Gordon West entered our class.

Grade Five--This year our class was divided into two groups part of having Mrs. Fenstermaker and the rest under Mrs. Crouch. We continued studing the multiplication tables. Delores Binion, Hannah Perry, and Dolfus Parten entered our class, and Shirley Lytle, Janet Prust, and Freddie Oaks left us.

Grade Six--This year was an exciting year because we were working toward Junior High school. We also looked forward to the picnic which we attended on the last day of school. Leroy Sheldon, Sandy Smith, Glen Cory, and Dolfus Parten left us.

Grade Seven--We were very excited at the thought of being upstairs. Imagine the shock we recieved when we got last changing classes.I think it took about a week and an enumerable amount of lectures from the teachers before we finally learned how to follow the schedule. Our teacher, Mrs. Aiken, helped us through our troulbe that year. Our enrollment was Bud Harrison, Yvonne Cheeks, Ethel Nedrow, Mary Ann Biggs, Hannah Perry, Ray Best, Grace Hall, Mary Jo Johnson, Joe Quimby, Janet Taylor, Gordon West, Dorothy Giovannone, Delores Binion, Paul Loudon, Kenny Bright, Jack Marinkovich, and Arlene Groody. Joe Quimby left us.

Grade Eight--This year we watched the seventh grade make the same mistakes we once made. It seemed funny to us, although serious to them. Our teacher again this year was Mrs. Aikens. I think she must have liked us. Diane Ahrendts, Judy Bailey, Carol Carter, and Earl Biggs entered the class period. Arlene Groody left us.

Grade Nine--This was a big year for us. We could do what we had seen the older kids doing. We elected Delores Binion Homecoming-attendant. This year Mr. Cleveland was given the task of keeping track of us. Sonia Dudley and Eileen Fee entered the class while Jack Marinkovich, and Gordon West left us.

Grade Ten--We got to have our home room in the study hall and I think we took advantage of it. Miss Allen helped us sponsor bake sales and a spaghetti supper. This year for Homecoming attendant we choose Diane Ahrendts. Margot Northrop and Joe Canann entered our class, but Earl Biggs, Ray Best, Carol Carter, Delores Binion, and Kenny Bright left us.

Grade Eleven--We finally got to sell ice cream, because the Juniors have the privelege of being in the ice cream store, also we had bake sales and a spaghetti supper under the supervision of Mr. James. We put on the Junior Play "Bargain Bride". We participated in the Prince of Peace contest, winners being Mary Jo Johnson, Grace Hall, and Ethel Nedrow. The Junior who went to National Honor Society was Mary Jo Johnson. We worked very hard on the annual Jr. and Sr. Prom "Ship Ahoy". The Homecoming attendants were Dorothy Giovannone and Ethel Nedrow. Diane Ahrendts and Margot Northrop left us. Dorothy Giovannone due to illness, quit school during the latter part of the last semester.

Grade Twelve--By this time our class has become quite small. With Joe Cannan leaving and Paul Loudon joining the service it leaves our class one boy and eight girls. Don't you envy that boy! The lone Senior boy is Bud Harrison and the girls are: Mary Ann Biggs, Yvonne Cheeks, Eileen Fee, Grace Hall, Mary Jo Johnson, Ethel Nedrow, Janet Taylor, and Hannah Perry. Our Senior Play "Hillbilly Weddin'" was a big success. We have one senior girl in band, Ethel Nedrow, and one senior girl and cheerleader, Mary Jo Johnson. We Have two teachers looking after us this year, even though there are just a few of us, so we really have to watch our step. The lucky teachers are Mr. James and Mr. Majick.

Class History

This is the class of '53
And I will start this poem for thee
But first you must see
What a small class we be.

First there's a cute blonde
Who we all know as squirt
If you tell her she's too short
Her feelings will be hurt.

Here is a nice girl to know
She's president of our class
But the trouble is she's always on the go
Now I give you Mary Jo.

Next is a girl named Ethel
Who for teachers has no use
But when she doesn't have her work done,
She always has a good excuse.

Now we have a girl named Yvonne
Who goes with a guy named Jack.
And since she wears an engagement ring,
She can't wait for Jack to come back.

Now we give you Bud, who's quite a guy,
And believe me He's not very shy,
For he's the only boy in the Sr. Class
He gets the eye from each Sr. lass.

Next on the list is Janet Taylor
What a nice wife she'd be for a sailor.
She'll settle for Sonny
Cause he's her honey.

Now here is Eileen Fee
Who's hobby is horses, you see.
And as treasurer of our class
She's really quite a lass.

Now we come to Hannah
Who is known to us as Han.
She's like the Canadian Mounties,
She always gets her man.

Now here is a girl named Grace
Who has a beau named Del
As everyone can see,
She likes him pretty well.

This is the Class of '53
Kinda small, don't you agree?
When people ask why ain't there more,
We tell 'em "Wait til '54.

But the nine of us
Are glad, you see.
Cause we're the Class
Of '53.

Upon the mornful departure of the Senior Class of 1953 from Lordstown High School, this last will and testament was produced.

We, the class of 1953, of sound mind and healthy physique, do make this our last will and testament. Each article herein described is bequeathed to the below-mentioned individuals in accordance with the terms of this will and testament.

To the board of education we leave the hope of finding another class like ours who does everything right.

To the janitors we leave our gum and hope that they can find it.

To the Juniors we leave all our troubles and hope that next year's Juniors don't take all the Senior privleges as the present Junior class has done.

To the Sophmores we leave our ability to get along together as a class.

To the Freshmen we leave the hope that they will hold on to their boys better than we did.

To the seventh and eighth grades we leave our ability to get good grades.

To the faculty we leave-so that they may enjoy peace and quiet.

We do hereby individually bequeath the following:

I, Mary Ann Biggs, bequeath my quiet ways to Joanne Webber.

I, Yvonne Cheeks, bequeath my locker to Mary Ann Magyar and my hair to Joanne Webber.

I, Eileen Fee, bequeath my curly hair to Hazel Day.

I, Grace Hall, bequeath my ability to stay out of study hall to Betty Jane Borland.

It was a peaceful and quiet June day as I started out to the airport to get my ticket to New York. I bought my ticket and went to get in the plane. It was just ready to take off so I got in and was comfortably seated with a magazine when the stewardess came by to see if we were all comfortable. When she came to me I looked up into a familiar face. It was none other than one of my old classmates Ethel Nedrow. Ethel likes her job very much and she told me she has been in lots of places that she always wanted to go to. When the plane got to New York, Ethel and I had made plans to go visit Lordstown and to try to get all the seniors together again when I got back from my trip. So saying good-by I went on my way.

I went to my hotel and registered, then decided to go shopping. As I walked into a store, someone came out in a hurry knocking me down. Sputtering mad, I jumped up to give this person a piece of my mind, when I recognized him as Bud Harrison, the only boy in our graduating class of 1953. Bud and I decided to go to lunch and talk over old times. Bud is now in the Army Air Force and looks very sharp in his uniform. Bud likes the Air Force very much and is thinking about making it his career. I told Bud that Ethel and I had decided to get the class together and visit Lordstown and Bud agreed. I told him when and went on my way.

I decided to go home the next day, stopping in Maryland for a while. I got to Maryland and decided to eat at Cozy Corners. I went in and sat down and just then I looked up to see another of my old classmates Janet Taylor, or rather Janet Biggs, and her husband Earl, and a small boy and girl. Janet and Earl came over and started talking. They were surprised to see me. Soon I found out that Janet and Earl had gotten married shortly after graduation and they now have two darling children. I told them also about the plans for us all to get together and they promised to come. After saying good-by I continued on my way. I was just leaving when I remembered Janet telling me that Mary Jo was now head nurse at the Cleveland Hospital. So I decided to go see her. When I got there, I was told that Mary Jo was on an important case, so I decided to wait. Soon I heard voices and I recognized one as Mary Jo. She came in looking very nice in her uniform. I went over and started talking to her and she told me she had just had a call from Yvonne Cheeks, another of our classmates. It seems Yvonne had a cold and thought it was pneumonia so she called the hospital and asked someone to come out. Yvonne and Jackie are now married and have a 20 room house. I got the address from Mary Jo and went to see her.

Her house is very nice and after telling me to take my shoes off so I wouldn't get dirt on her white rug she invited me in. Her house is very lovely and they are very happy. I told Yvonne about the meeting of our old classmates and with the promise that she would visit me soon I returned home to wait for August when we would all meet. Yvonne planned to go and visit the other three of our classmates and invite them.

It was a pleasant surprise meeting Grace. She was the last person on earth I expected to see. She sure made my cold better. Some weeks have passed since I have seen Grace. I have decided to take her up on her invitation and visit her.

So I went to Florida to visit Grace. I had her address so I set out to look her up. She lives out by the Everglades where she and Delano were married. They now own two of the most swankiest resorts in Florida. They have two of the sweetest little girls you ever saw. Grace has asked me to spend a week with her.

Class Prophecy

Grace and I decided to go shopping the very next day. We went into a newly completed Style Center of Florida. We were admiring a new Paris fashion on a tall slim model. When she turned around, our eyes almost popped out, for the model was none other than one of our old classmates, Hannah Perry. Hannah has been modeling since she got out of school, and she really has quite a business now. She is in great demand. And no wonder, what a model!

After talking to Hannah we found out that she had heard from Mary Ann who is now switch board operator in Florida. So after telling Hannah our plans to get together we decided to go see Mary Ann, as she was working in a nearby hotel. We started out to see her, and found Mary Ann as busy as a bee. She told me she had been working in the hotel since school was out. We planned to go to Lordstown the next month, but the problem was we couldn't find Eileen. No one knew where she was. We got in touch with the other kids and planned to go to Lordstown.

The day finally came for us to leave for our trip. We had all planned to meet in Lordstown at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. That is all but Eileen, our missing senior. We got to Lordstown and were we surprised. Right across from the school there is a big hotel with a sign reading, "Louis Majick's Luxurious Hotel". It was none other than our dear superintendent whom we loved very much. We decided to go in and what a surprise. We looked up to see Eileen coming toward us. Eileen is a switchboard operator in the Majick Hotel and likes her job very much. She is now married, but she works as she has always wanted to be a switchboard operator.

That evening we planned to eat together in the lovely dining room of the hotel. Dinner time came and we all went in to sit down. When we got to our table we were really surprised for there sat our dear, sweet teachers. Mrs. Misconis made so much money she had to retire and take care of it. Mr. James is now Dean of a large, college in San Fransico and was off on a vacation. We all had a wonderful evening and later we went out to our old school. There is a movie theater next to the hotel, a shopping center, and even a stop light, in fact lots of them. And that is what all the seniors of 1953 are doing now in 1960.

Pet Grumbles of Class of '53

Hannah grumbles that it is so hard to get an "A" in citizenship.
Yvonne grumbles that there is so much to do and not enough time to do it in.
Bud grumbles because he is the only Senior boy.
Mary Jo grumbles about nothing in particular.
Mary Ann grumbles because she has to ride on the school bus.
Janet grumbles because Mrs. Misconis makes her work too hard on the Hi-Say.
Eileen grumbles because she's got too much homework to do.
Ethel grumbles because the Seniors never get their own way.
Grace grumbles because everyone thinks she is so short.
